PROVISION MADE FOR INSPECTORS

State Highway Commission Will Send Representative to View Local Road Construction.

PETITION FIRST REQUIRED

Cost is $6 Per Day and Traveling Expenses for Inspector—Application Blanks Issued.

Local people who are interested in first class construction of permanent highways have suggested that Jackson township, take advantage of the law which provides that the state highway commission will send an inspector to view local work upon receipt of a petition containing the names of fifty freeholders in the unit which will pay for the construction. The cost of the inspector is $6 per day and traveling expenses. It is pointed out that acceptance of this provision virtually places the road contract under the control of the state highway commission so far as proper construction is concerned.

At the auditor's office this morning it was stated that no petitions for appointment of an inspector on the Dudleytown—Seymour road had yet been filed. It was stated that the state highway commission has issued blank application forms for the appointment of such inspector and that if a petition is filed from this township these forms ought to be procured.

Guarantors for Course Next Year Holds Organization Meeting at City Building.

A meeting of the guarantors of the 1920 chautauqua course held a meeting at the city building last night and affected an organization, electing C. H. Wiethoff as president, Clark B. Davis, secretary, and J. S. Mills, treasurer. C. B. Billings acted as temporary chairman, and presided until the organization was completed. Before the election of officers the contract with the Redpath bureau, Chicago, which will present the course, was read together with the names of the guarantors whose signatures are a part of the contract. The method of selling season tickets for the chautauqua next summer will be discussed later. Confidence is expressed that the assembly in 1920 will be one of the most successful ever held here. The bureau promises a program of even stronger character than was presented here last week.

ABYSSINIA SENDS MISSION TO WASHINGTON

A mission from Abyssinia, one of the most remote countries of the world, is in Washington to offer congratulations to the United States on its successful role in the world war. In picturesque native costumes they have attracted great attention in the capital. From left to right they are: Ato Sinkae (ato meaning a gentleman of high station), Ato Hierou, Kantiba (mayor), Gabrou, Dedjazzmatch Nado, head of the mission and a duke of the royal Abyssinian family, and Capt. Paul R. Morrissey, the United States officer detailed to attend the mission.

TUITION TAX RATE TO BE UNCHANGED

School Board, However, May be Compelled to Draw on Reserve to Meet Increased Expenses.

HIGHER WAGES FOR TEACHERS

State Superintendent Sends Out Questionnaire to Ascertain Condition of Finances.

Although the expenses of the city schools will be materially increased next year due to the operation of the teachers' minimum wage law which was enacted by the last state legislature, the local school board does not believe that a higher tuition tax rate will be necessary. In places the present tuition levy will not be sufficient to pay the higher expenses and the school authorities have appealed to L. N. Hines, state superintendent of public instruction, for assistance. The difficulty arises inasmuch as the new state tax law provides that municipalities cannot raise more revenue next year than they did this year, and the school authorities in some places are certain that the present tuition levy will not be large enough to meet the cost of school maintenance. The only way in which greater revenue can be raised is by consent of the state tax board upon presentation of a properly prepared petition asking for the right.

Leroy Miller, a member of the local school board, stated that the trustees had been figuring on the increased school costs for the coming year, but believed that an increased tuition rate would not be necessary although the board may have to draw on a reserve fund which has been set aside each year. The increased cost of school maintenance throughout the state the coming year is due in a measure to the new minimum wage schedule for teachers. This law in many places will mean considerable added expense.

In this city, it is stated, the scale of pay for teachers has always been higher than in many other places and the operation of the law will not be so noticeable here as in smaller localities. However, some teachers will receive more pay under the new statute. It is estimated that the average increase for teachers in Indiana will be twenty-seven percent more than this year. In places where the tuition fund is not adequate to meet this increase the authorities are handicapped in employing teachers unless they are permitted to increase the tuition levies.

In order to clear up this uncertainty petition forms have been prepared by the state superintendent that will be mailed to county superintendents next week for distribution to all local school corporations. These petition forms, which have been approved by the state tax board, call for a detailed statement of the revenues received and the expenditures made during the last school year and for a statement of valuation of assessed property last year, the new valuation and an estimate of how much money will be needed for the coming school year in order to base a tentative tuition levy.

As the tax levies will not be established until Sept. 5, which will be too late for the school officials to make contracts with teachers, these petitions will be presented to the tax board within the next few weeks so that the increased levies can be tentatively approved or disapproved. The school officials will then be able to proceed with more certainty in the matter of employing teachers.

CANTELOUPES ARE OF FINE QUALITY

Vallonia Melon Growers' Association Expects to Handle Between 50 and 60 Cars.

TRANSPORTATION BY MOTOR

Prices Ranges From $1 to $1.25 Per Crate for Grade I—Shipping Will Begin Next Week.

The Vallonia Melon Growers' Association will begin shipping canteloupes next week, although it is not expected that the season will reach its height until the first to the fifth of August. John E. Hunsucker, secretary of the association, stated this afternoon that the quality of the early melons is exceptionally fine and that the indications were for the biggest crop in several years. The prices range from $1 to $1.25 for the first grade in crates of twelve to fifteen melons.

The shipping of melons is the big marketing problem, and this is handled in a splendid manner through the association. The growers deliver their melons properly packed to the association headquarters and receive a check or receipt for the number of crates. The association handles the selling problem and makes shipments to buyers in Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and other large centers. The shipments on long hauls are packed in refrigerator cars so that the melons will be in good condition when they reach their destination.

The motor truck is to be used more extensively this year than formerly for short hauls. Deliveries to Indianapolis and Louisville are to be made by motor when the trucks are available and when this form of transportation cannot be used to nearby points the melons will be trucked here and loaded on traction freight cars which make express time. Mr. Hunsucker said that motor trucks could not be used to an advantage for hauls exceeding seventy-five or one hundred miles. However, shipments for Indianapolis or Louisville can be loaded in trucks at Vallonia in the evening, delivered to the des-

FIRST AVIATORS' STRIKE IS CALLED

Pilots Carrying Mail Out of New York Refuse to Start on Flights This Morning.

CHARGES FORMALLY FILED

Demand Reinstatement of Two Fliers Who Were Relieved for Failure to Make Trip Tuesday.

New York, July 25.—The first aviators' strike began here today when none of the aerial mail appeared at Bemont park, L. I., to take out the Washington and Chicago mail.

Notice has been served on the second assistant postmaster general that unless two recently discharged pilots were reinstated they would refuse to take the planes out this morning.

The discharged men were relieved from duty after they refused to carry the New York-Washington mail Tuesday. They allege the weather was bad and that the machines furnished them were in dangerous condition. It is understood the postoffice department contends the planes were safe and that weather conditions were good enough for scores of other aviators to fly in this vicinity on the day in question.

The pilots also have other grievances, alleging their machines are unsafe, that they have been refused necessary safety appliances and that they are given the same pay as mechanics who do not risk their lives.

The aviators were confident their strike would tie up both the New York-Washington and New York-Bellefonte-Cleveland-Chicago routes.

The aviators, most of whom are former army fliers, asserted that since July 15, when a series of heavy rains began, there have been fifteen accidents, two of which resulted fatally for Pilot McCusker and Pilot Sanborn. They said their present machines have a minimum speed of 100 miles an hour and "low visibility, being dangerous to both pilots and public."

They ask slower and more stable machines.

WILSON TO FOLLOW HIS OWN PROGRAM

President to Present French Treaty to Senate Upon Return From Speaking Tour of Nation.

RESERVATIONS' SUGGESTION

Administration Leaders Say Taft's Attitude Will Not Affect The Ratification.

By United Press
Washington July 25.—President Wilson plans to present the Anglo-French-American defensive agreement to the senate after he has finished his speaking tour for the league of nations, it was stated at the white house today.

The president is preparing an address to be delivered when the pact is presented, it was said.

While senate administration leaders today declared William Howard Taft's suggestion of reservations will have no effect on the treaty fight, senators advocating reservations said the former president's attitude will convince the country as nothing else could of the absolute need for reservations.

STORE NEAR FT. WAYNE HELD UP BY AUTO BANDITS

Robbers Ask Wife of Proprietor for Cookies and Then Rifle Cash Register.

By United Press

Ft. Wayne, Ind., July 25.—Three auto bandits dressed in naval uniforms, held up the four mile house east of the city this morning about 10 o'clock. The place which is owned by Peter Conrad is run as a sort of general merchandise store. Conrad was not at home and the men stopping their machine asked Mrs. Conrad for some cookies. When she turned her back the bandits started to rifle the cash register and when Mrs. Conrad turned towards them she looked into the muzzles of three revolvers. After taking all the cash they could find the bandits loaded considerable canned goods in the automobile and drove away, but were captured a short time later at Van Wert, O.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT AVERTED.

Careful Driving of J. W. Bergdoll Saves Boy From Injury.

A serious accident was narrowly averted this afternoon when a boy on a bicycle rode in front of an automobile driven by J. W. Bergdoll on Second street. The machine struck the bicycle and knocked the boy off but both he and the wheel escaped injury. Mr. Bergdoll succeeded in stopping the car in time to prevent injuring the boy who was riding on the wrong side of the street.

The sheriff of Johnson county passed through the city this afternoon enroute to Franklin from Knoxville, Tenn., with a stolen Ford touring car which was taken from a resident of that city several weeks ago. He was accompanied by the owner of the stolen car.

Several local men who recently invested in a company organized to drill for oil in Kentucky have received news that oil had been found on their lease and prospects are good for striking a gusher. The promoters feel sure that the investment will be a paying one.

Grain buyers say that many of the oats in this vicinity are thrashing out light and that crop will not be large as expected a few weeks ago. There is considerable straw in many fields and while the oats heads are of good size, the grain is rather chaffy. The local price is sixty-five cents a bushel.

ANNUAL CASUALTIES

We have read a great deal about the American casualties during the World War, yet each year for the last fifty years the industrial demands of this nation have resulted in a far greater number of disabled men than our total list during the conflict. It took the war to awaken the nation to this enormous human wastage each year.

But one splendid thing that resulted from the war was the knowledge of the importance of dealing promptly with an injured man. The "first aid" that was given during battle save many lives. Great manufacturing plants and even many of the smaller industries have established first aid stations or provide their employees with first aid kits. The men are instructed how to treat an injured employ until he can be placed under the care of a physician.

If you want the cleanest of white teeth and healthy gums free from disease, an easy and quick way to get both is to use a tooth paste so effective and perfect that astonishing results usually come in a week's time.

And the cost is so little. Just go to any drug or department store, and get a large tube of SENRECO TOOTH PASTE for 35 cents.

Not only will it make your teeth clean and white, but it will at once remove any filmy coating, help to check the ravages of Pyorrhea and banish acidity in the mouth.

The American Red Cross has done valuable work in connection with the establishment of first aid hospitals in American industries. But the work of this organization escaped public attention, although those directly concerned fully appreciated the value of the movement. In war-time the American Red Cross was concerned with military and civilian relief only insofar as it concerned the families of soldiers and sailors. In peacetime the Red Cross is to "mother" civilian communities as well. Nothing so safeguards the welfare of a community as to have a group of people trained to meet emergencies, trained to think clearly and calmly when accidents occur.

Civilian classes in first aid must be taught by one of the regularly employed teachers who have taken the course, or under the supervision of a registered physician. In schools having a physical director the work is naturally delegated to that department. A Red Cross first aid certificate is given to all who satisfactorily pass the examination.

COMMUNITY BUILDING.

Community building is one of the important parts of the great campaign for the reconstruction of the world. Great projects that have really been worth while have failed because those in charge failed to take proper recognition of the importance of the individual communities. Great movements may be conducted on a nationwide scale, but ultimate success depends on community effort. It is the combined activity of the various communities that makes an undertaking a national success.

A splendid illustration of this was furnished by the Liberty Loan campaigns. Those in charge of the loans did not stop with an organization in Washington to supervise the whole nation. They appointed workers in each federal reserve district who in turn were instructed to organize each locality. The effective work that made the loans a success was the community work, and the combined community work carried success for the nation.

Indiana church workers have undertaken a community upbuilding campaign in connection with the reconstruction of the world. They are emphasizing in each locality the necessity of rebuilding the nation on the foundation of christianity. Meetings are being held throughout the state. Community Sunday will be observed here next Sunday. The

"EVERYTHING WRONG"

So It Seemed To This Lady, Until Cardui Relieved Her Suffering.

Wyandotte, Mich.—"About a year and a half ago," writes Mrs. Florence Rogers, now of this place, formerly of Florida, "I had got in very bad health. Everything was wrong. I couldn't eat anything that didn't make me suffer...My limbs also gave me great pain and the pains in the limbs extending down to the knees. I too had awful pains in the back and was very thin and run-down in health...was terribly nervous. Everything would startle me..."

An acquaintance told me of the great benefit she had received from Cardui...I was so bad off I couldn't do my work. The little daughter had to take charge of the work, and I could hardly walk..."

I began using Cardui, and in about a week I felt much improved...I got better right along, after taking the Cardui...In about 2 weeks after taking the Cardui, I was able to do all my work except the washing...In a month more, I could do all my work, and the washing too."

Ladies! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic, for your troubles. It has helped thousands of other women in the past 49 years. Why not you? Your druggist sells Cardui.

At comparatively small expense the taxpayers of Jackson township may secure the services of a qualified inspector to view the construction of the Seymour—Dudletown road. The inspector may be obtained through the state highway commission upon application of fifty freeholders. The cost will not exceed $6 per day and traveling expenses of the inspector. Local taxpayers are spending approximately $50,000 for the construction of two miles of permanent roadway and they want to be certain that it is built properly. The highway is expected to last for many years but its serviceability and durability depend upon the manner in which it is constructed. The appointment of an inspector would be a form of insurance or protection for the taxpayers that the proper materials are used in the right proportions. The matter of securing the names to the petition would be a simple matter. The county commissioners will act promptly when local people indicate their wish in the matter.

It is to be hoped that the proposed big ocean liners to be built by the United States shipping board will prove more successful than some of its other products which had difficulty in keeping together, even for the light coastwise trade. The shipping board's record for building ocean liners is not the most flattering.

An Indianapolis paper stated that sugar sold for 30½ cents a pound after the close of the Civil War. But why recall sad things like that? It might give the refiners more courage.

BOLSHEVIKS FRANKLY TELL ABOUT DEATH OF THE CZAR

Make Almost Child-like Explanation of How Royal Family Was Put to Death.

New York, July 25—The bolsheviks are naive and almost child-like in their explanation of the execution of the Czar and members of the royal family. Of the Czar's family the bolsheviks claim they do not know anything.

No effort is made to conceal the details of the Czar's death. The United Press correspondent asked one of the men high in the bolshevik foreign office for the truth about the Czar. His story was neither long nor complicated.

"The Czar was made prisoner by the bolsheviks at the overthrow of Kerensky and was taken to a small town in northwestern Siberia," said the bolshevik official. He was kept there for some time, until an uprising occurred in the vicinity. His captors feared the reactionaries would take the Czar and declare him ruler again. So he was moved southward to a small hamlet in the Ural mountains. There he was kept until the Czecho-Slovaks under Koltchak reached the proximity, and there was again danger of Nicholas being captured and declared Czar. The bolsheviks guarding him realized this danger.

So one night they executed him. They did it entirely without our knowledge and against our orders. The only authority they had was that of the local soviet. We learned of the execution some days after it was done.

"The local soviet sent in the orders for execution, and asked us to approve them. Since the Czar was already executed, we decided that we might as well approve the local soviet's action, so we did, and the Czar's execution was given the O. K. of the national soviet congress."

The Moscow bolsheviks claim they have no information regarding the fate of the Czarina and the children of the Czar, all of whom were taken prisoners with Nicholas. They probably were kept with him, and were executed at the same time, admit the bolsheviks.

The bolsheviks claim the local soviet acted as a court to try the Czar before its members declared themselves for his execution. His death is justified on the grounds that he was a danger to bolshevism and would always be an influence to reaction.

Some of the details of the Czar's death came to light when two Russians who were present at the death scene in the Urals appeared in Berlin and told part of their stories to members of the Allied missions there.

These Russians who had escaped from the bolsheviks, had in their possessions small bits of cloth, which they claimed were remnants from the clothes of the former Russian royalty. The soldiers claimed to have seen the executions, not only of Nicholas, but of his wife and children. They said it was cruel and brutal beyond description.

According to the bolsheviks, the executions in Russia have not reached the figures given out by their enemies. The bolsheviks testify to the statement that not more than five thousand people have been actually killed in the entire revolution.

However, most of these were executions. The bolsheviks claim that everyone executed had a trial before a tribunal. The tribunal consisted of three communists. The system of trial by tribunal is still in practice.

Most of the executions were during the Red Terror, according to the Moscow leaders. They justify the Red Terror, on the grounds that it was the only means of bringing peace in the land, when counter plots were threatening Lenin and other bolshevik leaders.

The Red Terror put the fear of disorder in the hearts of the Russian people. It was the means by which the bolsheviks seized a strangle hold on the country. It also enabled them to either jail or execute every political opponent of any importance inside Russia.

Only recently have any of these political refugees been allowed out of prison. They are still closely watched. In Petrograd the United Press correspondent had dinner one evening with a baron who had just been released. He was ravenously hungry and almost out of his mind.

NEUTRALS HOLD MANY GERMAN SECURITIES

Vast Treasure of Uncertain Value
Smuggled Out to Evade Taxation for War.

By United Press.

Berlin, July 25—Switzerland and the Scandinavian countries at present house a vast treasure in German and Austrian securities. Their worth can only be guessed, but it is estimated that they run into many millions of dollars.

These securities have been smuggled out of Austria and Germany against the time when their owners would have to help pay the German war indemnities. Because of the movement of these valuable papers, the German government made strong complaint in the course of the peace negotiations. It pointed out that a vast sum of money had gone out of the country, which, without the aid of the entente in recovering, probably could not be reached.

The securities were taken out by wealthy men who desired to escape their share of the burdens arising from peace payments. In some cases, airplanes were used to take out great stores of securities. In other cases, directly after the armistice, it was possible for the wealthy to pack up their tangible assets and move quietly into Switzerland, or some other neutral country, where the securities were safely stowed away out of the reach of the German government.

Only to-day there came news from Vienna of a considerable movement of Austrian and Hungarian paper out of the country. One estimate was that recently $1,000,000,000 worth of notes and other securities had been smuggled out of the country—with quite evident signs that the movement had the same purpose behind it as the earlier German smuggling.

The government is now seeing to it that no great sums of money or paper are allowed to slip through the boundaries unless for legitimate purposes. Germany complains that her ability to meet foreign claims has been materially decreased by the acts of war-swollen profiteers and wealthy citizens who chose to take their wealth away rather than aid in rebuilding Germany, wherein these profits were made.

Incidentally, Switzerland and the other neutral countries have made vast profits through the war; while the access of wealthy Germans with their fortunes makes money flow rather freely. Switzerland has been for some time the playground of Europe, owing to the closing of other resorts on account of the war. It is now necessary to obtain special permits to enter the country for pleasure or business purposes.

NO TAX ON CASKETS

Undertakers Are Notified That Luxury Tax Does Not Affect Them.

Local undertakers received messages Thursday afternoon notifying them that it had been decided at Washington, D. C. that the luxury tax law applying to precious metals etc. would not apply to those used on burial caskets. Only a short time ago the undertakers were warned to change the war tax while the case which was pending could be taken up through the proper channels by the Undertakers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hopewell and two children, and Miss Esther Prall who are spending their summer at their country home, near Bobtown, were in the city Wednesday.

POLICE OFFICER UNHESITATINGLY ANSWERS CALL

Duty, No Doubt, Prompted Bowling Green Man's Glowing Tribute to Trutona.

Bowling Green, Ky., July 21—Sam C. Dummery, 640 Tenth street, Bowling Green, has been a popular and efficient member of the local police force for many years. His devotion to duty together with a pleasant personality has won for him the respect and admiration of hundreds of friends. This genial officer of the peace has but one regret in dwelling reminiscently upon his years of service and that—poor health. How he has finally overcome this difficulty, Mr. Dummery tells in the following manner:

"It seems that every time I ate I had to be annoyed by an uneasy heavy feeling in my stomach, followed by a shortness of breath. I was usually constipated. Supper seemed to hurt me the worst and caused me to experience many a sleepless night.

"Trutona quickly relieved the heavy feeling in my stomach and shortness of breath that formerly followed my meals. The constipation has also been relieved, to a great extent. In fact, I sleep better eat better—eat anything I want, too—without bad after effects, since taking Trutona. It is a tonic of real merit in rebuilding weakened and run down systems and I'm trying to get everyone, suffering as I was to take it."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Seymour at W. L. Federmann's Drug Store.

Do not succumb to the lure of the shark who seeks to profit through your patriotism by discounting your bonds. He had the opportunity to buy as many as he wanted but he preferred to let you carry the burden and then profit through you.

If you need money for temporary expenses, come to us. Your bonds backed by Uncle Sam are good enough for us without our charging you a penalty on your patriotism. We'll loan you the money, hold your bonds for you as collateral, credit your dividends as they accrue and you own your bonds whenever it's convenient for you to pay off the loan.

That's the sort of a bank this is. A bank of service to the people—a bank protecting their interest and promoting their prosperity.

For Tractor Lubrication

Heavy Polarine Oil Stanolind Tractor Oil Extra Heavy Polarine Oil

Stanolind Tractor Oil has been found, through severe and thorough tests, to be the best lubricant for more than one-half of the tractors made.

This oil is one of great durability. It stands the high temperature developed in a tractor engine without change in body.

It has the correct body to thoroughly lubricate the remotest frictional surfaces, eliminating scored cylinders and undue wear.

Where mechanical conditions or design make it desirable to use a slightly heavier, or slightly lighter, oil than Stanolind Tractor Oil, Extra Heavy Polarine Oil or Heavy Polarine Oil is recommended.

Any Standard Oil representative will be glad to show you the chart of Tractor lubrication, prepared by our Engineering Staff. It indicates specifically which of these three oils the Standard Oil Engineers have found will give the best results in your particular tractor.

We have just published a 100-page book "Tractors and Tractor Lubrication," prepared by our engineering staff, which you will find a valuable reference book, and we believe it will save you many days of tractor idleness with the resultant money loss. It's free to you for the asking. Address

DIDN'T CARE WHAT HAPPENED

"I became a physical wreck from stomach trouble and was a fit subject only for the operating table or graveyard. Being discouraged, I gave way to drink, which made things worse. I got so I didn't care what happened, and wanted to die. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy has cured me of everything. Am now in fine condition and feel 25 years younger." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. PROVISION MADE FOR INSPECTORS does not spend all of his time on the local contract, but makes occasional visits to the work and checks up the amount of cement that is used in making the concrete, thus insuring the taxpayers that the specifications are being followed to the letter. The inspectors are experienced road builders and if the contract is not completed according to specifications he would refuse to approve it.

Several counties in Indiana which have awarded contracts for road improvements this summer and fall have filed petitions for the appointment of inspectors and feel that the comparatively small expense is a safeguard to the taxpayers.

It is pointed out that the construction of the Seymour-Dudletown road will be in progress at the same time that the High street road is being built and that the same inspector might be used on both roads, thus reducing the cost of inspection on the township road. The roads built by the state highway commission are under the direct supervision of an inspector and engineer without additional cost to the community in which the road is located.

Expectant Mothers View Event Calmly

Time Brings Knowledge That by Use of Penetrating Remedy Suffering Is Avoided.

Thousands of women have found by the application of Mother's Friend, the penetrating external remedy, prepared especially for expectant mothers, that pain and suffering at the crisis is avoided and that in addition the months preceding the crisis are free from nervousness, nausea, stretching and bearing-down pains and general discomfort. Mother's Friend makes it possible for the expectant mother to herself actually aid nature in the glorious work to be performed, and no woman should neglect to give nature a helping hand. It will mean infinitely less pain and the hours at the crisis will be less. The period is one of calm repose and restful nights. By the use of Mother's Friend the skin is kept soft and natural, and experienced mothers say that it is much better to keep your health and good looks during the period of expectancy than to try to regain them afterward. Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. G, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their interesting Motherhood Book, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend and begin its use at once.

—the great sails spread above her, and the sea for her background.
“Now, do your worst,” cried Tobias, his evil face white as wax in the sunlight.
“Fire, fire—don’t be afraid,” rang out Calypso’s voice, like singing gold.

CHAPTER IX.

Action.

I had seen, close in shore, a two-masted schooner under full sail sweeping by, as if pursued, and three negroes kneeling on deck, with leveled rifles. As I looked, a shot rang out, from my right, where I could not see, and one of the negroes rolled over. Another shot, and the negro next him fell sprawling with his arms over the bulwark.

At that moment, two other negroes emerged from the cabin hatchway half dragging and half carrying a woman. She was struggling bravely, but in vain. The negroes—evidently acting under orders of a white man, who stood over them with a revolver—were dragging her toward the main mast. Her head was bare, her hair in disorder, and one shoulder from which her dress had been torn in the struggle, gleamed white in the sunlight. Yet her eyes were flashing splendid scornful fires at her captors; and her laughter of defiance came ringing to me over the sea. It was then that I had cried “Calypso!” and wrenched myself free.

The next moment there came dashing in sight a sloop also under full canvas, and at its bow, a huge white man, with a leveled rifle that still smoked. At a glance, I knew him for Charlie Webster. He had been about to fire again, but, as the man dragged Calypso forward, he paused, calm as a rock, waiting, with his keen sportsman’s eyes on Tobias—for, of course, it was he.

“You—coward!” I heard his voice roar across the rapidly diminishing distance between the two boats, for the sloop was running with power as well as sails.

Meanwhile, the men had lashed Calypso to the mast, and even in my agony my eyes recorded the glory of her beauty as she stood proudly there “Now, Do Your Worst!” Cried Tobias.

At the same instant, as she called Tobias sprang toward her with raised revolver.

“Another word, and I fire,” shouted the voice of the brute.
But the rifle that never missed its mark spoke again. Tobias’ arm fell shattered, and he staggered away screaming. Still once more, Charlie Webster’s gun spoke, and the staggering figure fell with a crash on the deck.

“Now, boys, ready,” I heard Charlie’s voice roar out again, as the sloop tore alongside the schooner—where the rest of the negro crew with raised arms had fallen on their knees, crying for mercy.

All this I saw from the water, as I swam wildly toward the two boats, which now had closed on each other, a mass of thundering canvas, and screaming and cursing men—and Calypso there, like a beautiful statue, still lashed to the mast, a proud smile on her lovely lips.

Another moment, and Charlie had sprung aboard, and, seizing a knife from one of the screaming negroes, he cut her free.

His deep calm voice came to me over the water.

“That’s what I call courage,” he said. “I could never have done it.”

The “king” had been right. He knew his daughter.

By this I was nearing the boats, though as yet no one had seen me. They were all too busy with the confusion on deck, where four men lay dead, and three others still kept up their gibberish of fear.

I saw Calypso and Charlie Webster stand a moment looking down at the figure of Tobias, prostrate at their feet.

“I am sorry I had to kill him,” I heard Charlie’s deep growl. “I meant to keep him for the hangman.”

But suddenly I saw him start forward and stamp heavily on something.

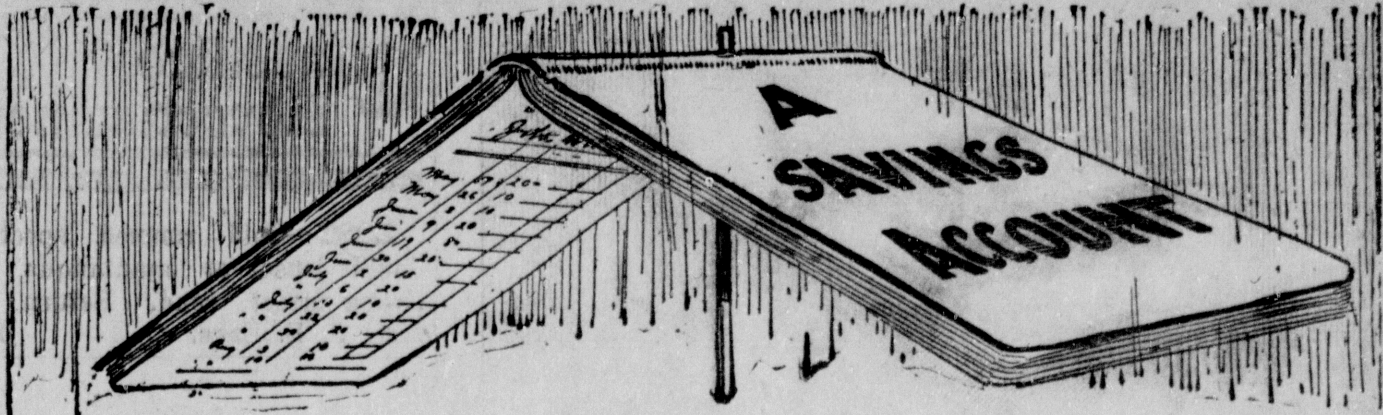

“No, you don’t,” I heard him roar—and I learned afterward that Tobias, though mortally wounded, was not yet dead, and that, as the two had stood looking down on him, they had seen his hand furtively moving toward the fallen revolver that lay a few inches from him on the deck. Just as he had grasped it, Charlie’s heavy boot had come down on his wrist. But Tobias was still game.

“Not alive, you English brute!” he was heard to groan out, and, snatching free his wrist too swiftly to be prevented, he had gathered up all his remaining strength, and hurled himself over the side into the sea.

I was but a dozen yards away from him, as he fell; and, as he rose again, it was for his dying eyes to fix with a glare upon me. They dilated with terror, as though he had seen a ghost. Then he gave one strange scream, and fell back into the sea, and we saw him no more.

Save the Ten Cents.

Beginning June 10, a minimum price of fifteen cents for cash, and an additional ten cents when charged, will be made on all classified locals, cards of thanks, or other short locals. If the local is ordered by telephone the money may be sent to the office the same day, before it is charged on our books, and the extra charge of ten cents will not be made.

We find the cost of charging these small items, making out bills and collecting them often amounts to more than the local itself. The extra ten cents that will be charged will partly compensate the office for this extra work and expense. But you can save it by paying cash when the local is ordered.

Exception will be made in the case of business firms with whom we have regular monthly accounts.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves the Ailments of Change of Life.

“During Change of Life I had hot flashes, dizzy spells and every month I was wild with misery I had a constant dull pain, and would always feel tired. I suffered in this way for five or six years and was treated by a physician and took different remedies without benefit. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me and I took it, and I believe I would never have been well if it had not been for the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I am recommending your medicine to all women ailing as I was, for I think it will carry them safely through the Change of Life, and relieve the ailments that come at that period.”—Mrs. ALEXIE C. Women who suffer from nervousness, “heat flashes,” backache, headaches, and “the blues,” should try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E.
